

Some Geometric Medians

Joseph Gil<sup>1</sup>, William Steiger<sup>2</sup> and Avi Wigderson<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup>Department of Computer Science, The Hebrew University

<sup>2</sup>Department of Computer Science, Rutgers University

Abstract

Two interesting depth measures for  $n$  points in  $d$ -dimensional space have been proposed - Tukey's directional depth and the onion peel depth. Recently a new measure - the simplicial depth - has been defined. We compare the three measures and discuss upper and lower bounds for the cost of computing them.